RU Talk: Emily Berçir Zimmerman - Held in Trust: Ethics and Participatory Art

Tuesday July 24th, 2012 6:30pm

Location: Residency Unlimited
360 Court Street, Brooklyn, NY
11231

Performance art and participatory installations challenge viewers to operate outside of known codes for behavior. Often, these situations are riddled with an anxiety of participation, placing pressure on the tacit trust between the viewer and the artist. This discussion between theater director David Levine, media artist Marie Sester, choreographer Irina Baldini & Masako Matsushita and curator Emily Berçir Zimmerman, will examine the emotional tensions raised by shifting modes of artistic practice, and by the physical and theoretical positioning of the spectator. Irina Baldini & Masako Matsuita will perform a site-specific piece prior to the panel.

This panel will launch a two-year research project and series of interviews focusing on the role of trust in artistic practice.

IN CLASS

BY AMELIA SAUL

Wednesday, July 25, 7:00 pm

Instituto Cervantes
211 East 49th Street
New York, NY

Casita Press Play, Episode 1: Bored in Class is a film that recounts, in a combination of staged readings and reenactments, a Dantean adventure through a dreamy, perilous middle-school art class. Each student is bored to tears, gets confronted by something wicked and vicious, and ultimately must fight for passage into a netherworld of enthusiastic, distracted, dancing vampires.

This project was realized in the Fall 2011 within the framework of Amelia Saul's joint residency with Casita Maria and Residency Unlimited.

The screening at Instituto Cervantes inaugurates the Video Art Project series a year-round cycle of film and video screenings of works by RU artists and other artists, launched by Arte Institute and Residency Unlimited.

RU Talk: Claudia Cannizzaro and Shalini Ganendra

Thursday July 26th 6:30pm

Location: Residency Unlimited
360 Court Street, Brooklyn, NY 11231

directions here

RU outbound resident artist Claudia Cannizzaro and Shalini Ganendra (director/Founder SGFA) discuss the VISION CULTURE ART RESIDENCY, promoting cross cultural engagement with South East Asia.

The VISION CULTURE Residency in Malaysia aims to develop artistic interactions and experiences through varied cultural environments in and dialogues with SE Asia and Asia. The Residency is hosted by Shalini Ganendra Fine Art in Gallery Residence (an award winning green space designed by architectural luminary, Ken Yeang), and offers studio space, public lecture and exhibition spaces, and resource centre.

The VC Residency period runs for a minimum of 2 months, (including exhibition opportunity) and is for one mid-career artist at a time. The cross-cultural focus of the Residency encourages VC Residents to engage with local artists, either before or at the inception of the Residency, to develop and present a collaborative project (installation or exhibition) during the VC Resident's tenure. Alternatively, the VC Resident can explore a solo project and develop an exhibition accordingly, which will then be presented at Gallery Residence.
