Following a visit of the artist's open studio exhibition in midtown Manhattan, curator Meyken Barreto engages in a virtual Meet Over Lunch discussion with the Cuban artist Adrián Fernández. Together they will unpack Fernández's working processes, review the artist's practice, the collaborative nature of his works and how he weaves relations between photography, architecture and sculpture. Fernández and Barreto will focus in particular on the conceptual implications of the series Memorias Pendientes (Pending Memories) which merges documentary photography, sculpture, and installation art and makes reference to Cuba's Revolutionary visual culture. A 2022 publication by Turner titled Adrián Fernández: Pending Memories with texts by Iván de la Nuez and Malcolm Daniel is available here.

Visit to the artist's studio is possible upon appointment.
