Opening reception: Wednesday October 5, 2022 | 7:00 - 9:00pm

The Gallery at Ace Hotel Brooklyn

252 Schermerhorn St, Brooklyn, NY 11217

RSVP

This duo show, adorned with Black divinity and magic, “Our Mothers’ Garden” is the exploration of Damali Abrams’ and Ibtisam Tasnim Zaman’s striving for tenderness. Painted and collaged into these artists’ works is a sense of restorative medicine for the generations who came before. With an exhibition title inspired by Alice Walker, Zaman and Abrams seek to fill in historical gaps, channeling the untold stories of their foremothers by reclaiming the image of the Black Femme.

Both artists work from their own archives in order to create an intimate view of the sacred feminine. In the manifestation of this show, the artists have intentionally woven a healing atmosphere that will be challenging to some and a gentle balm to others.

Pedro Wirz, sadnest #1 „Cobra de Rua“ (Street Snake), 196 x 99 x 34 cm, 2022

sadnest by Pedro Wirz

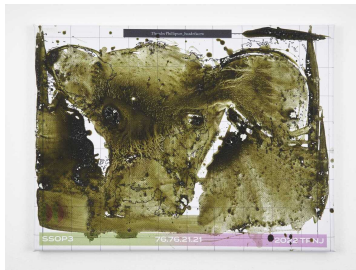

Kai Matsumiya

264 Canal Street 5E, New York, NY 10013

Opening reception: September 29, 6-9pm

On view until November 5

In this solo exhibition Pedro Wirz (2014 RU alum) investigates the interlinked realms of the organic, synthetic, and technological as they relate to radically altered and rapidly changing perceptions of the environment. The artist attempts to find meaning in the ongoing battle between extinction and renewal in the natural world.

RAINRAIN online gallery

On view until November 6, 2022

Rain Lu (2019 RU Curatorial alum), founder of RAINRAIN Gallery, presents a series of new paintings by Danish artist Theodor Nymark. The exhibition marks the artist's latest attempt to explore ecology as both catalyst and resource for creativity by experimenting with algae powder and illustrations printed on durable fire- and water-resistant PVC.
